

A hot object gives off a continuous spectrum.

An absorption line spectrum is seen when a hot object is viewed behind a cooler gas.

An emission line spectrum is seen when a cooler gas is viewed without the hot object.

